About FDP

The primary objective of this Faculty Development Program (FDP) is to equip faculty members with the essential skills and knowledge required to write and publish high-quality research papers in Scopus-listed journals. The program will cover the entire research paper writing process, from formulating research questions to understanding journal requirements, with a focus on enhancing the chances of publication in reputable journals. Scopus is a comprehensive database of peer-reviewed literature, providing abstracts, citations, and indexing for academic journals, books, and conference proceedings. Here's an overview:

- Research methodology and design.
- Literature review and referencing.
- Article writing and publishing strategies.
- Scopus indexing and metrics (h-index, citation analysis).
- Journal selection and submission processes.
- Peer review and revision techniques.
- Ethics and plagiarism avoidance.
